Yes, I think Stergios also indicated this at one of my meetings. I don't have the EPA letter, but I will continue with Lonza as a Significant Industrial User. Thanks for tracking this down.

Hi Steve,

After looking into your question last week, we realized that Lonza recently requested a determination regarding whether they fall under the Pharmaceutical Manufacturing Point Source Category. As I'm sure you know, it was determined (see EPA letter dated May 10, 2018) that they are not covered under this category. Therefore, the adjustment of the BOD and TSS limits based on the effluent limit guidelines in that Point Source Category would not be appropriate.

Please let me know if you would like to discuss further.

Best,

Michael Cobb
